Xtreme Door Makeover Photo Contest Winner Announced at IDA Expo

Lewisville, TX (May 11, 2012) – The votes have been counted and the grand prize winner of the Wayne-Dalton Xtreme Door Makeover Photo Contest will be announced at the IDA Expo on Friday, May 11 at 11:15 a.m. at booth 1001. Jennifer Kuhn from Hamburg Overhead Door in Hamburg, NY will receive $5,000 to attend the IDA Expo for her entry showcasing Model 9400, a steel door, with the Charleston finish.

“We had a great time reviewing all of the entries from the Xtreme Door Makeover, however Hamburg Overhead Door showed us the most dramatic change in a residential garage door install,” said Ali Isham, Wayne-Dalton Brand Manager. “Our top three winners all showed very compelling examples of how a Wayne-Dalton garage door replacement can improve the curb appeal of any home in America. Plus, we know from the 2011-2012 Cost v. Value report by Remodeling Magazine that garage door replacement is one of the top home improvements for returning a homeowners investment.”

The second and third place winners are Dee Ann Downing of Pioneer Overhead Door in Lincoln, NE who won $2,000 for her entry using Model 9700, also a steel door, in a Lexington finish, and Daniel E. Madsen from Dutchess Overhead Doors in Poughkeepsie, NY won $1,000 for his garage door replacement showcasing the Classic 311 Wood model.

The Xtreme Door Makeover Photo Contest ran from March 16 – April 16 and was open to all Wayne-Dalton dealers. The three winners were chosen by Wayne-Dalton. Submissions were required to showcase Wayne-Dalton residential garage door replacement installations that took place after January 1, 2011.
